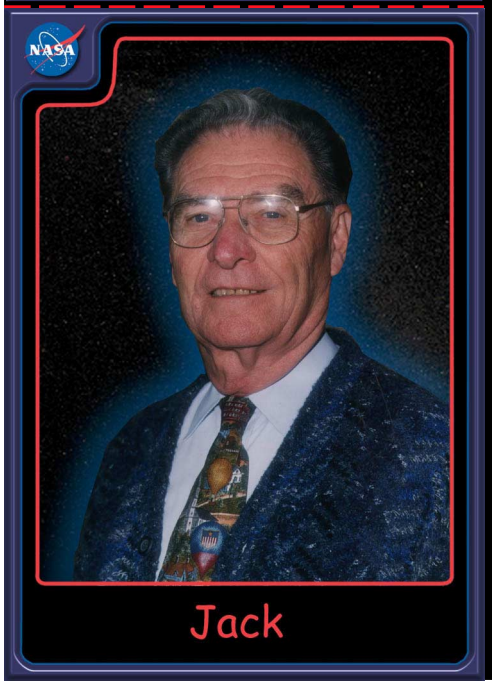
Career Cards



Name: Jack Boyd

Title: Executive Assistant to the NASA Ames Director

What I do: serving as key advisor to the Ames Director, I help shape Center strategies; I also speak for Ames to the NASA Headquarters in Washington on shaping and financing our programs, and on human resources issues.

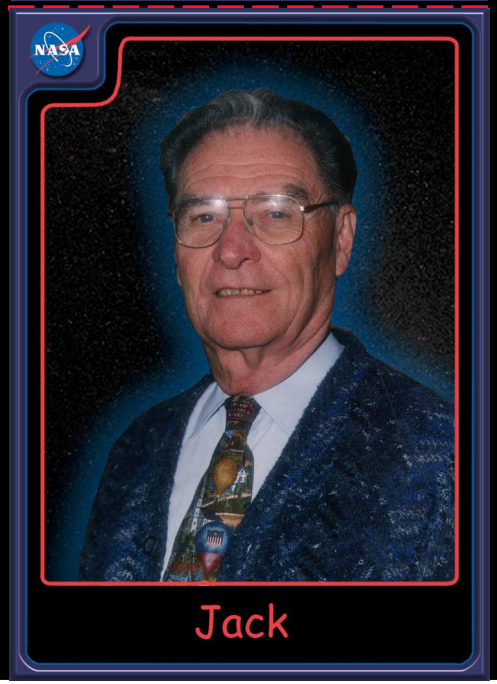
Education: B.S. in Aeronautical Engineering, Virginia Tech; Advanced Studies in Physics, Aerospace Engineering, Stanford; MBA from Stanford Sloan Program

Experience: Joined Ames in 1947; 15 yrs in Supersonic Aerodynamics; 24 yrs senior management at two NASA Centers; Associate Administrator at Headquarters

Skills: super/hypersonic aerodynamics, planetary entry probes, air/spacecraft design, management, university teaching

Interests: teaching, gardening, visiting with children, grandchildren, music, traveling with wife

"Be a starter. The only way to reach your full potential is to learn and to start new things. Get the training you need, the mentor you want, and above all keep an open mind."



Name: Jack Boyd

Title: Executive Assistant to the NASA Ames Director

What I do: serving as key advisor to the Ames Director, I help shape Center strategies; I also speak for Ames to the NASA Headquarters in Washington on shaping and financing our programs, and on human resources issues.

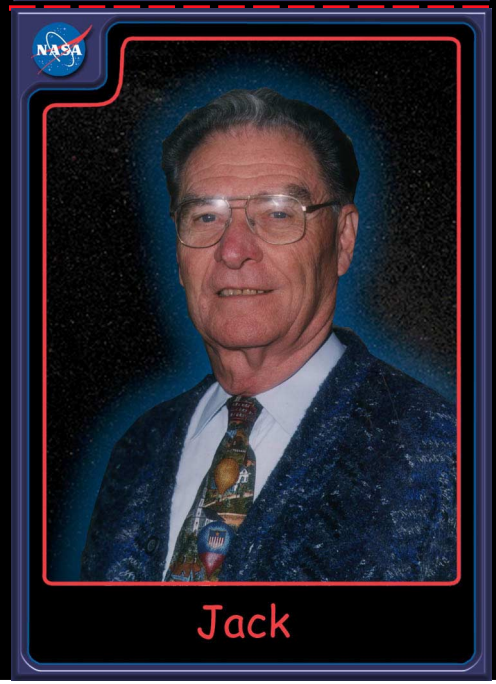
Education: B.S. in Aeronautical Engineering, Virginia Tech; Advanced Studies in Physics, Aerospace Engineering, Stanford; MBA from Stanford Sloan Program

Experience: Joined Ames in 1947; 15 yrs in Supersonic Aerodynamics; 24 yrs senior management at two NASA Centers; Associate Administrator at Headquarters

Skills: super/hypersonic aerodynamics, planetary entry probes, air/spacecraft design, management, university teaching

Interests: teaching, gardening, visiting with children, grandchildren, music, traveling with wife

"Be a starter. The only way to reach your full potential is to learn and to start new things. Get the training you need, the mentor you want, and above all keep an open mind."



Name: Jack Boyd

Title: Executive Assistant to the NASA Ames Director

What I do: serving as key advisor to the Ames Director, I help shape Center strategies; I also speak for Ames to the NASA Headquarters in Washington on shaping and financing our programs, and on human resources issues.

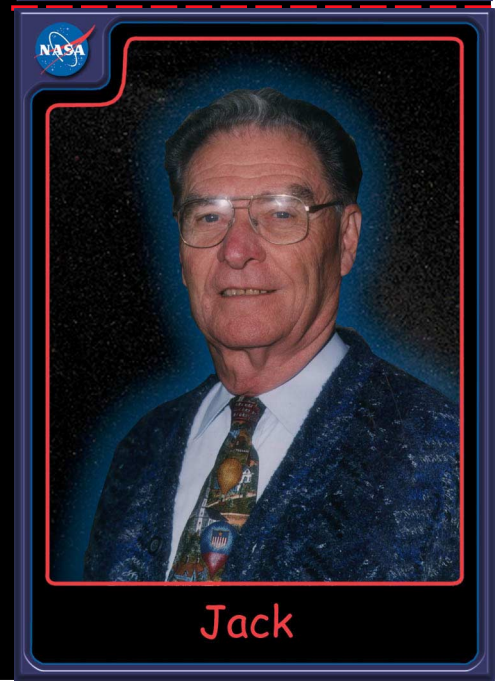
Education: B.S. in Aeronautical Engineering, Virginia Tech; Advanced Studies in Physics, Aerospace Engineering, Stanford; MBA from Stanford Sloan Program

Experience: Joined Ames in 1947; 15 yrs in Supersonic Aerodynamics; 24 yrs senior management at two NASA Centers; Associate Administrator at Headquarters

Skills: super/hypersonic aerodynamics, planetary entry probes, air/spacecraft design, management, university teaching

Interests: teaching, gardening, visiting with children, grandchildren, music, traveling with wife

"Be a starter. The only way to reach your full potential is to learn and to start new things. Get the training you need, the mentor you want, and above all keep an open mind."



Name: Jack Boyd

Title: Executive Assistant to the NASA Ames Director

What I do: serving as key advisor to the Ames Director, I help shape Center strategies; I also speak for Ames to the NASA Headquarters in Washington on shaping and financing our programs, and on human resources issues.

Education: B.S. in Aeronautical Engineering, Virginia Tech; Advanced Studies in Physics, Aerospace Engineering, Stanford; MBA from Stanford Sloan Program

Experience: Joined Ames in 1947; 15 yrs in Supersonic Aerodynamics; 24 yrs senior management at two NASA Centers; Associate Administrator at Headquarters

Skills: super/hypersonic aerodynamics, planetary entry probes, air/spacecraft design, management, university teaching

Interests: teaching, gardening, visiting with children, grandchildren, music, traveling with wife

"Be a starter. The only way to reach your full potential is to learn and to start new things. Get the training you need, the mentor you want, and above all keep an open mind."